IT'S CURES THAT COUNT.

Many so-called remedies are pressed on the public attention on account of their claimed large sales. But sales cannot determine values. Sales simply argue good salesmen, shrewd puffery, or enormous advertising. It's cures that count. It is cures that are counted on by Aver's Sarsayarilla. Its sales Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Its sales might be boasted. It has the world for its market. But sales prove nothing. We point only to the record of Aver's Sarsaparilla, as proof of its understands how puerile and groundless is the talk about coercion of voters by employers. Under the Walton law no voter can be coerced who does not want to be coerced, because it is impossible for an employer to know how any of his employers vote. There is one thing, however, which the Walton law does not protect voters against, and that is the epen, outraryous, and defant substitution of a fraudidient ballot for the voter's genuing ballot, as trained to in Virginia con-The effect to suppress this informous pria howl of intimidation from the party which is to be a beneficiary of the fraud.

It is very had when it is used to influence men to voice against their convictions under a fear of losing the means of making a livelihood for their families, but it is a very good thing when it operates through the law of the land to make men respect their official eaths, to avoid perjury, and to enforce the sacred right of the citizen to have his vote counted honestly. Value of Mexican Dollars.

Value of Mexican Dollars.

Editor of The Times:
Sir.—A rampant 18 to 1 free-silver crank here contends that the statement that Mexican silver dollars can be bought for 13 cents or less (though centaining a few more grains of silver than ours) is a fallacy, and says Joseph J. Percivali, proprietor of a tobacco warehouse in Petersburg. Va., will pay 1500 in our currency for 500 of them. If Mr. Percivali ever made such an offer, it was undoubtedly a bluff on his part, but if he really wishes to make the exchange he can be readily accommodated. The undersigned will gladly undertake to make the deal for the profit the Richmona brokers would be most happy to furnish Mr. Percivali 500 or 100,000 of them, as would your correspondent, at his figures, provided he ever made such an offer, as there would be a very large margin of profit in the transaction.

Should the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 15 to 1 ever prevail here, our dollar would then be valued precisely as the Mexican dollar now is-by the market value of the silver it con-

The attention of the public is called to the fact that all ANNUAL DIVIDEND polle hereafter issued contain tables of GUARANTEED PAID-UP AND EXTENDED INSUR-ANCE, LOAN AND CASH VALUES, the paid-up and extended values commencing at the end of the third year and the loan and cash values at the end of the fifth year. These provisions will apply to all annual dividend policies now in force, at the end of five years from July 15th, 1896, also to all existing Tontine and Semi-Tontine policies continued in force beyond the expiration of their respective Tontine dividend periods.

From and after this date the LIMIT OF ENSURANCE ON A SINGLE LIFE, between the ages of twenty-five and fifty-five, is increased to $50,000 on Ordinary Life, and to $75,000 on Limited Payment Life and Endowment plans.

From and after September 1st, 1896, no policies will be issued on any plan at any age above sixty. While many companies have found it necessary or desirable to RAISE THEIR RATES the Northwestern has made no increase except in surplus, and is still paying larger dividends than any other company. Insurers will find it to their interest to write for records of EXACTLY SIMILAR POLICIES in the Northwestern and other companies and then select that company which will do the best for them-
